

LING135F23 Article Presentation Rubric (20 points total)

Article Summary	7      6      5	4      3      2	1      0
The main claims of your assigned article are presented clearly; background and supporting evidence given in appropriate detail	Meets all criteria at a high level; clear and well-developed; author's analysis and evidence are clear	Meets some criteria, uneven or some lapses in clarity; author's analysis unclear	Meets few criteria, often unclear or underdeveloped; no context and/or no summary of the article
Discussion	7      6      5	4      3      2	1      0
You discuss and evaluate the article in a way that engages your classmates; enrichment is creative and insightful	Meets all criteria at a high level; discussion is insightful; audience is engaged	Meets some criteria, uneven or some lapses in clarity; discussion/engagement is vague and/or superficial	Meets few criteria, often unclear or underdeveloped; no discussion identifiable
Visual Component	3	2	1
You supplement your presentation with either a handout or a slide deck that is clear and easy to follow, an appropriate length, and well-edited	Meets all criteria at a high level; handout/slides are thoughtfully crafted to enhance the verbal presentation	Meets some criteria, uneven or some lapses in clarity; visual component at times distracting and/or confusing	Meets few criteria, often unclear or underdeveloped; insufficient or no slides/handout used
Overall Effectiveness	3	2	1
Presentation is easy to follow and an appropriate length; You are well-prepared to discuss your article and answer questions about it	Meets all criteria at a high level; oral presentation is highly effective and uses visual component appropriately; approximately 20-30 minutes long	Meets some criteria; uneven or some lapses in clarity; some ambiguity or unpreparedness in presentation; inconsistencies between oral and written components; 10-19 minutes	Meets few criteria, often unclear or poorly organized; presentation appears half-baked or unprepared; shorter than 10 minutes